HOW DO I GET STARTED?

1

Do you have more questions? If you do, contact the Department of Geography and Anthropology at (470) 578-2373 or geoanth@kennesaw.edu. You may also contact the faculty members in the department with questions about the program, research opportunities and internships. Contact information can be found at: chss.kennesaw.edu/geoanth.

2

Students or potential students should contact the College of Humanities and Social Sciences Undergraduate Advising Center at (470) 578-7728 or chssadvising@kennesaw.edu to schedule an academic advising appointment.

3

Apply at admissions.kennesaw.edu. The application deadline for fall is June 1, and the application deadline for spring is December 1.

LEARNING THROUGH DIRECT EXPERIENCE AND RESEARCH OPPORTUNITIES

Our faculty and students collaborate on exciting field work, field trips, service learning and project-based learning. The Geography program also has opportunities for hands-on learning and research on sustainability through the KSU Food Forest and OwlSwap.

STUDY ABROAD

Many of our faculty offer courses in KSU's Study Abroad Program.

Whether it's learning about weather and climate in Italy or the geography of sustainable agriculture in South Korea, you'll get a global perspective on geography while enjoying a life-changing experience.

INTERSHIPS

We focus on education through action and having job-ready skills by offering internship opportunities with a career focus for all students.
